

Noriko Endo

Project Professor of Graduate School of Media and Governance, Keio University

Ph.D., Energy Science, Graduate School of Energy Science, Kyoto University. Specialist in the field of energy, public policies and risk governance. After serving as an assistant editor of an economic magazine, she started to working on the research and educational activities. As part of her research project, she has set up and is operating a panel of women intellectuals on energy and environmental issues. She published “The Study of Japan's Nuclear Damage Compensation Scheme - Reviewing the Accident at the Fukushima Daiichi Nuclear Power Station of Tokyo Electric Power Company” (Iwanami Shinsho), and won the 14th Osaragi Jiro Rondan Award. She is serving also as a member of the following committees: Fiscal System Council, Committee on industrial Science and Technology Policy and Environment of the Industrial Structure Council, Trade Committee Electricity and Gas Industry Committee in the Advisory Committee for Natural Resources and Energy, and Advisory Committee on Nuclear Damage Compensation System (Japan Atomic Energy Commission).

